The Empty Treasury.

Mr. Editor: I have noticed several times recently the statement in your paper that the State Treasury was empty-"not a dollar in it." Can it be possible that no State official receives his dues? Can you collighten the public on this P. Q.

GRANITE, September 19, 1877.

Editors of the Dispatch : "During the continuance of the meeting the most decorous silence must be observed, and unnecessary talking, smoking, or the use of profane language, shall be punished by a fine, as per schedule of fines."

Please inform us through your columns if "unnecessary" is understood before the word "smoking" in the above passage, and A SUBSCRIBER. oblige

A SUBSCRIBER.

ANSWER.—"It might be, and then again it mightn't." Usually the adjective is understood to be repeated in such a connection. The sentence is not well arranged. We should, however, consider it allowable to use that form of expression, and therefore that "unnecessary" is not necessarily

This is the stuff which goes to make up the gay outfits and fine houses of sham bankrupts and defaulters. The story is of D. D. Spencer and the plundered State Savings Bank of Chicago, as the Inter-Ocean tells it: "A brave little woman on the West Side, longing to visit a rapidlyfailing old mother in Boston, determined to earn the money to go to her. Early and late she toiled with the needle, working away until she finally had the necessary amount. Her treasure was too precious to be even trusted to her own keeping while her final preparations were being made, and it was confided to the State Savings Bank, she expecting to draw it yesterday and start last evening. The trip is abandoned now; the old mother waits in vain; the daughter will not go. This is only one, and by no means the most pathetic, of the instances that were being related in which confiding ones had been betrayed." -

NEW STEAM-BRAKE. - Some interesting experiments were made yesterday in the yard of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad with a style of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad with a new steam-brake constructed by the company at its Mount Clare works. The brakes were attached to a regular passenger-engine, and a distance of one tenth of a mile run on a down grade of twenty feet to the mile. At the first trial, at a speed of twenty-six miles per hour, a stop was made in the distance of two hundred and ninety-four feet, the brakes being applied only to the "drivers" of the engine. In the second experiment, at a speed of sixteen miles per hour, the trial of the engine of the engine of the engine of the engine. In the second experiment, at a speed of sixteen miles per hour, the trial of the engine of the engi At the first trial, at a speed of twenty-six it stopped in two hundred and thirty feet. At twenty-seven miles per hour a stop was made in five hundred and eighty-two feet. A final trial at thirty-three miles per hour, using steam on the "driver" brakes and air on the tender, the stop was made in five Apply to hundred and eighty-three feet. This is regarded as the best result ever obtained with brake. This invention will be applied to all passenger engines running on the heavy grades, and it is estimated that a train will be stopped by them in its own length .-Cumberland Civilian.

A LOST SON AMONG INDIANS .- Mr. G. of Fredericksburg, Texas, arrived here on Wednesday in search of his son, stolen by Indians thirteen years ago, when only twelve years old. The boy was found among the Comanche band, and recognized by his father instantly. His embraces were received by the son with stoic indifference and imbecile smiles, and nothing would induce him to recognize his father or consent to go home with bim until General Mackenzie interfered and authoritatively told him he had to go. Profuse promises of horses, guns, etc., dear to the Indians here, made no impression on him. He seems to feel the parting from the Indians very keenly. A dusky maiden, whom the chief promised to give him for his wife if he would remain, seems to be at the bottom of it. The old mother is said to be almost frantic with joy at the recovery of a son whom she believed dead. Father and son left for Fredericksburg on Sunday the 16th .- Fort Sill telegram in Chicago Tribunc.

A CHANCE FOR YANKEE DOODLE .- It is with feelings of pride that an American should read of the gorgeous metamorphoses which our young people who go abroad to study music undergo. To see a plain Miss Rice, after six months in Italy, change her cereal surname for that of Mile. Ricci, and thus show foreign snobs what an American girl can do, is supremely satisfying to our national pride. Blanche Tucker, who need not have been ashamed of her name, for she is of no kin to that namesake who sang for his supper, now appears in her home paper as Blanche Rosanella, while Mary Trimble, se 18-4t
